Spring Brings Fine Weather & Skies Filled With Bombers

READING, ENGLAND—What a month we have had to usher in the early summer! A riot, on this little island, of blossoms—and bombers. The earth covered with one and the sky speckled with the other. An odd mixture, but we are used to these things now.

Never have I seen such lovely blossoms in my life; the most unlikely folks have been wandering about goggling at them. It really is as if Nature had put up a specially good show for the American and Canadian troops, just to give them a hint of what Old England can look like when she's really trying.

"Ha!" we say to them in passing. "And what do you think of this?" You might almost think we had fixed it ourselves, judging by our manner. We practically thump our chests over it. Of course we need rain; but we always begin to beat about needing rain if it keeps fine for a few weeks. Perhaps, when all this Reconstruction gets going, we shall arrange more adequate water storage and enjoy our good weather if it comes. I hope so.

During the early part of this week we have had cadets in the grounds of this house; nice people doing busy things with radio cars and washing at the tap in the yard, all very bustling and jolly. Of course I went out and got mixed up in it, as I generally contrive to get mixed up in things.

A Canadian from Montreal
"Any Canadians here?" I asked—thinking of this letter to you. Yes, there was a Canadian: a fit-looking, capable young man from Montreal, and we had a few words. He told me that he had been over here for nearly four years, so I guess he's quite used to us now. He had nice white teeth showing in a sunnied face, and a saucy little black beret on his head—and he quite agreed with me that this particular spot is the loveliest place. They slept out that night, and the weather was perfect for it. I liked to think of them in this delightful spot, getting an eyeful of the parkland and the woods and the sheets of blossom showing above the old yew hedges. They may not find any thing else quite so lovely.

Well, I have found somewhere else to live, a mile further out in the country, but I am hanging on here just a little longer, making the most of it. Kind friends have rallied round, fixing electric lights, repairing my little stove, doing all they can to ensure my comfort in the new home, bless them. Their goodness has done a lot to make me feel better about things. My hostess—the most generous woman in the world, I'm sure—is giving me lots of things for my comfort; a cupboard and a pile of blankets among them. And blankets, believe me, are something like a gift in these times! They are among the things which are disappearing.

However, I have been able to stay on here long enough to see dear Mrs. Cat (you remember her?) produce five more kittens and bring up one of them. The others, like the blankets, disappeared. This new arrival—which is so plain that it must have a heart of gold, I'm sure —is at the staggering stage and is already quite impervious to the roar of planes overhead. There is a real wartime, spartan touch about its upbringing, for when the days and nights are fine the old lady carries it out of the box and makes it live under a rose bush in the yard. She and the elder daughter take it in turns to keep an eye on it, but one feels that it will be made, from the first, to pull its weight as a war-cat should.

Another Blitz Story
And talking of wartime, here is another blitz story which really is remarkable. The sister of my friend near here lived in a vicarage in the Southampton district and, as you know, that place had a real pasting during the Battle of Britain. Well, she and the Vicar, after nights and days of bombing, felt that they really needed a spot of rest, so they decided to go off for a night to a little village some way out and get some real sleep for once.

When they returned on the following morning they were met by somebody who told them that the vicarage had 'gone'. What do you mean—gone? They asked. (It must be hard to believe such a thing about home!) So they hurried along and had a look.

All that remained of the house was a huge pile of rubble. Not even a wall still stood. The place had received a direct hit. They soon began foraging among the ruins, but two things only were still in existence: a small writing table and, right down underneath, a bag of golf clubs. Not a stitch or a stick of anything else. But—so my friend tells me—her sister has never really lost her courage and good spirits. The thing she found most maddening was the loss of her clothes—and I fancy that most women will appreciate that! Yet she feels that she has her life as a brand new free gift, and that's good enough.

The Walking Fish
And I wonder if I have told you the story of the walking fish? 'Tiny', my tall friend who was one of the auxiliary London police during the blitz relates it; and why not? It happened to him.

The blackout in London, of course, was inky. He and his mate were on duty in the City, and the darkness was such that one might have been standing in a coal-hole with the lid on. Suddenly he found himself blinking incredulously; but he thought it better not to say anything just then.

"I'm going bats," he remarked to himself. "That's what it is. I've started to imagine things. There was a sharp silence and then his friend nudged him nervously. "Do you see what I see?" he whispered, and Tiny breathed more freely.

An extraordinary thing was happening: a phosphorescent kipper was slowly crossing the road a few feet ahead of them. Closer investigation explained this peculiar happening. It was being towed over by a black cat which had found this ancient and appetizing meal in a nearby ashen. Poor Tiny! That experience, he says, is one thing he'll never forget. Such a jolly man always ready to tell his amusing

Bank of Montreal Crop Report No. 5

In the Prairie Provinces, generally favourable growing weather has prevailed during the past week, and crops continue to make good progress. With the exception of the east-central and southeastern districts of Alberta and the extreme southwestern and west-central districts of Saskatchewan, where moisture has been inadequate, crop conditions are generally promising. Weeds are prevalent in some districts and saw-fly infestation is reported in southern and central Saskatchewan. There have been scattered hail losses and some damage from flooding. Pasture is good in most of Manitoba and Saskatchewan and fair to good in Alberta. In the Province of Quebec, lack of rain has adversely affected the progress of crops generally. The harvesting of a below-average hay crop is under way. Most pasturage is in only fair to poor condition. Potatoes and other roots are in good condition but growth in some regions has been slow. Corn is progressing favourably and the yield of peas is average. The strawberry crop has been light owing to early damage by frosts; other small fruits promise well. Additional moisture is urgently required.

Light to heavy general rains have been experienced in Alberta. Conditions are favourable in the central and northern districts, where warm weather is now required. Rains were too late to effect much improvement in the east-central and southeastern areas, where growth is uneven and prospects below average. Hail damage is light.

Saskatchewan - Crop conditions generally are favourable but rains are required soon in some districts to maintain prospects. Scattered hail losses have occurred and saw-fly infestation is reported. Harvesting of a good hay crop has commenced.

Manitoba - Crop prospects continue favourable. Growth is heavy and even and early-sown grains are heading out well. Moisture reserves are ample for the present. Some damage from flooding is reported and weeds are prevalent in some districts. Harvesting of a satisfactory hay crop has commenced. Sugar beets have suffered excessive moisture.

Province Drafts Game Regulations

New game regulations for 1944-45 season are under consideration, according to information received by the Alberta Motor association.

In all probability, the regulations will be issued by the provincial fish and game branch early in August. They will be announced when the necessary order-in-council fixing the seasons and bag limits and dealing with other regulations, is passed by the provincial government.

It is expected that there will be a few changes this year in bag limits and seasons, necessitated by reports as to bird populations, but otherwise it is unlikely that there will be any major revisions from last year's regulations.

Many holiday makers are planning motor trips to nearby points during the shooting season. It is anticipated that the number of hunters will be increased this year, judging by inquiries received by provincial officials, but on the other hand the shortage of ammunition may prove to be a deterrent to many sportsmen.

Local Reduction In Calgary Power Rates

An announcement of particular interest to the home owners in the Town of Wainwright was made this month by the Calgary Power Company. In line with their past practice of making rate reductions as soon as they became justified by increased usage, the company announced that for domestic services the energy charge will be reduced from 2c to 1c each on all energy used over 20 KWH per month by each consumer.

This reduction in rates should encourage householders in Wainwright to study their electric service costs and compare them with the cost for the same service in effect in towns of equal size and under the same conditions of service. In doing so they will find that they have the advantage of being able to use their electric service at a cost to them comparable to the same service supplied under similar conditions at any place on the continent.

This new rate becomes effective in Wainwright on energy used by domestic services after July 16th.

W.I. Hold Regular Monthly Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Wainwright Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Lassell on Thursday, July 13, with thirteen members and four visitors present. Mrs. W. T. Bruner acted as President in the absence of Mrs. R. Greer.

The quilt raffle brought the splendid total of $38.80. Miss Teresa Gosselin was the lucky winner.

The report on the Wainwright Constituency Conference held at Bruce on June 29th was given by Mrs. J. Donaldson.

W. I. members will canvas the town during July in aid of the Jam For Britain Fund and money can also be left at Hannah's Hardware or the Wainwright Studio.

The gift donated by Mrs. A. Clarke was won by Mrs. W. T. Bruner.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. Smart on August 10th, and the roll call will be "Information on Various Subjects."

CANADIAN ONIONS

FOR MALTA STEAKS

Montreal—If they are eating steaks in Malta these days, they will soon be more appetizing, with the addition of British Columbia grown onions. Fifty cases, containing eight hundred pounds of dehydrated onion flakes, were recently handled by the express department of the Canadian National Railways from Vernon, B.C. to the Atlantic seaboard where they were shipped to the Island of Malta.

49th Bat. LER Assoc. To Hold Annual Parade

The annual Church Parade of the 49th Battalion (Loyal Edmonton Regiment) Association will take place at Edmonton on Sunday, August 13th, 1944. The parade will "Fall in" on the Market Square at 9.45 A.M. and move off at 10.30 A.M. The service will be held at the Parliament Hill grounds as usual. Medals and berets will be worn with brassards on the right arm. Motor cars will follow the parade both going and returning to pick up those who find the march too much for them. The 2nd (Reserve) Battalion has been invited to attend and a cordial invitation is extended to all ranks of the 1st Battalion who have been returned to Edmonton, to take part in the Parade. Captain the Reverend E. T. Scragg, Chaplain of the Association will conduct the service.

The annual luncheon after the parade will not be held this year due to the impossibility of making suitable arrangements.

"Forty-Niner" magazine will be mailed to members before the parade.

The Brass and Bugle Bands of the 2nd Battalion will play for the parade. Major General Griesbach will command the parade.

Earle Hay,
Secretary,

9-42 Forty-Ninth Battalion.

CANADA'S CITIZEN ARMY

The first units of the Reserve Army have proceeded to camps across the Dominion for their annual field training.

The "Citizen Army," which in the early part of the war played a major role in the defence of Canada against enemy threats of attack, is made up of men, over-age or between the ages of 17 and 18½ or not otherwise eligible for service in the Active Force. It has an enrollment strength of more than 90,000 men, and is organized on the same basis as the Active Army.

It is drawn from all ranks of civilian life and occupations, and represents a willingness and preparedness on the part of Canadians to do their "bit" as soldiers as well as citizens. The possibilities of enemy attack or sabotage have not yet been excluded. These citizen-soldiers sacrifice leisure time and vacations to ensure the safeguarding of Canada's soil.

An interesting booklet has been prepared by the Reserve Army showing graphically the types of training an enlistee receives, and the specialized forms of service he may enter, many of which afford the opportunity to learn trades and skills which would be of great practical use in everyday life. This booklet is on issue to every member of the Reserve Army.

In a forward to the publication, the Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, says in part: "The necessity for the Reserve Army still remains. The war is not over and Hitler and Tojo are not licked—yet. Your job is to keep on training reinforcements for the Army overseas—to continue to provide dependable insurance in Canada, against the uncertainties of war."

C.N.R. AND FOUR YEARS OF WAR

In transportation performance the distance travelled by Canadian National Railways' trains during the past four years, exceeded 248 million miles, passenger cars travelled 775 million miles and freight cars nearly 6½ billion miles. C.N.R. carried 272 million tons of revenue freight and 93 million passengers. Gross revenues exceeded $1,368 millions. Operating expenses amounted to $1,053 millions. The amount paid in wages was $659 millions. Approximately 57% of the total expense went out in the form of wages. The fuel bill alone cost C.N.R. $119 millions.

Coldwell Calls for Unity Planning Public Ownership

Addressing an open-air rally of 1200 people at Wainwright on Saturday night, M. J. Coldwell, national leader of the C.C.F., deplored the trend towards isolationism which has been manifest for some time in Quebec and of which there is evidence in the political and economic doctrines of the Social Credit party in Alberta. He outlined the manner in which the application of C.C.F. planning for a high level of peacetime production would unify the Canadian people, and prepare this country to take its proper place in the international sphere.

In opening his speech, Mr. Coldwell condemned those who are telling the people of Canada that a C.C.F. government would take away their farms, repudiate their victory bonds, confiscate their savings and undermine their insurance policies. The C.C.F. leader pointed out that, on the very contrary, his party was organized for the purpose of preventing monopoly interests from securing a strangle-hold on the economic life of this country.

Plans must be made now, Mr. Coldwell went on, to see that the billion-dollar production industry established by the government for war purposes is used for peacetime production in the post-war period. That the present government cannot be depended upon to do this is shown by the contracts which it has made with such companies as Canadian Industries Limited who have a promise that the chemical plants set up for munitions production during the war will not be used to compete with C.I.L. in the post-war period.

The C.C.F. leader lamented the death of post-war planning in evidence at Ottawa, mentioning the Veterans Land Act and the educational programme, as the only concrete projects at present under way. These, he said, touched only a small percentage of the soldiers and war workers who will have to be re-established in industry at the close of the war. The C.C.F. believes, according to their leader, that we should be prepared to spend at least a reasonable fraction of what we are spending to win the war in order to win the peace.

Referring to Roger Babson's prediction of a post-war depression, Mr. Coldwell argued that the only way to prevent this is to elect a government pledged to intelligent planning under a system of public ownership of the financial and industrial monopolies which at present are in private hands—for private profit.

Mr. Roper, provincial leader of the C.C.F., reiterated his accusation that Premier Manning is quibbling when he argues that Alberta's oil resources are not being exploited for the profit of private interests. The large sums of money invested without profitable returns were lost by 'suckers' to promotion swindlers, who made only the merest pretence of seeking for oil, the C.C.F. leader contended. He ridiculed the idea of a C.C.F. government setting up 1500 companies to search for oil. Rather, he indicated, the very best geological engineers—such as now find oil for the Royalite company—would be employed to protect the people's investment by locating and developing Alberta's oil fields.

Mr. Roper maintained that so long as Calgary Power controls hydro-electric development in this province, we can look for no extension of electric lines into rural areas, because private companies are never prepared to surrender the profits of their industry for the purpose of extending its services to that section of the community in which no profit can be made.

M. D. Meade, C.C.F. candidate in the Wainwright constituency, was chairman of the meeting. H. E. Spencer, C.C.F. federal candidate, introduced Mr. Coldwell.

WEDDING BELLS

A very pretty wedding ceremony was solemnized in the United church on Sunday afternoon, July 23rd when Miss Borghild Bruhaug of Jarro, became the bride of Corpl. William Ray Meakins, R.C. A.F., also of Jarro. Rev. A. D. Richard performed the marriage ceremony.

After the wedding some thirty guests assembled at the Hotel Cafe where a reception dinner was held.

Earl Cameron is the voice listeners hear on the late summary of the day's news, presented over the Trans-Canada Network of the CBC, at 9.00 p.m. daily. Mr. Cameron is a news announcer because that's what he wanted to be and it was almost that simple. He was working in the retail hardware business in Moose Jaw when a CBC talent scout arrived to conduct auditions. Not very long after that, the better business men of Moose Jaw saw one of their best depart for Winnipeg, and later for Toronto. Now, the former hardware authority presents the latest news reports to listeners from coast to coast—including the folks back home in Moose Jaw.

"D" DAY IN BRITAIN

At this decisive hour we think of our fighting men. Not a man or woman in this home land of ours but has some personal stake in the mighty venture we are undertaking together.

We on the home front are proud to bear our share of the cost and pain of these days. We want our men to know that a nation with one heart and mind is fighting alongside them every minute, fighting for the new world for which they are giving their lives.

We mean to make D Day a date with destiny for Britain. A time when we can make simple practical decisions to see that the new world does not disappear once again in lofty words and jungle living the moment the war is over.

A girl with two brothers in the Navy wrote a letter that will go straight to the hearts of millions in this country during these days of suspense: "I don't want to grin and bear it - to hold on tight till it is all over. I don't want to run from one activity to the next, to run away from my fears in a feverish unending round of things to do."

"I want to give my woman's heart and all that I feel for my brothers to create now the new world they are fighting for. I want to help make this nation once again a great, caring family, with millions of hearts beating as one and beating for each other. I want to use every quiver of emotion and every extra heart-beat to free this country from the tight strangle-hold of fear, hate and greed, and to make flow again the great creative streams of love and devotion that can never be rationed and that alone bring new life. With God's grace and power I dedicate myself, heart and soul, to doing this for my country."

The sentiments expressed by this girl could well be the aim of every person on the home front during these eventful days and months.

To the People of Wainwright

On August 8th you will be called upon to cast your vote for one of the running candidates in the Provincial Election. I am asking you for your support to return me once again to the Legislature to finish the work that I have arranged to be completed for you.

There are still eleven miles of road to be completed on the Wainwright-Vermilion Highway, and I can definitely assure you that it will be completed at an early date. In fact work would have been started on it by now, if unforeseen weather conditions had not interfered.

I have been most active in the interests of the Constituency and you have benefited. At the last session this was brought out in no mean manner by Mr. Martin, Independent M.L.A. for Peace River, who stated that Wainwright seemed to be getting more attention than other constituencies. In 1943 I advocated, free hospitalization for all maternity cases in the province and it became effective this year. I was the only one who so advocated this. Dr. Cross, the minister of Health, one of the best in the Dominion, who has the welfare of the common people at heart at all times, gave me details required, and the matter had the approval of the late Premier. I have always had the interests of the farming community at heart, in fact my whole life has been spent in that way. I know their needs and have always stressed the point that a prosperous farming community makes everyone else prosperous. Farm prices should be stabilized with that end in view.

You have had municipal reorganization, large School Divisions, Treasury Branches, etc., and I believe you will agree with me that action speaks louder than words. I am the son of a farmer and have a knowledge of farming. I also have a wide knowledge of finance. I believe in free enterprise and individual initiative with proper controls and regulation to prevent exploitation of our fellowmen. Monopoly in any form is wrong and eventually leads to trouble for the common people whether that monopoly be by private corporation or by the state, in other words state Socialism. We must be vigilant these days for there are forces at large which would destroy our democratic institutions and freedom which have been bought by blood, sweat and tears.

I respectfully ask for your support.

Yours sincerely,
William Masson,
Candidate.

Ottawa News Letter

TARIFF CUTS WILL

BENEFIT AGRICULTURISTS

OTTAWA — Federal authorities have ruled that full reduction of prices due to complete removal of import tariffs from farm machinery and implements, must be passed on to the farmers who buy them. This action follows the most sweeping reduction on agricultural equipment since the National Policy was originated by the Macdonald government in the last century. Practically all agricultural implements and machines were placed on the free list by the 1915 1944 budget, a goal at which farmers' organization have been aiming for many years. In addition, the 10 per cent war exchange tax on farm implements has been taken off. Resulting over-all tariff cuts run from 17 1/2 to 35 per cent.

COST OF IMPLEMENTS WILL BE LOWERED

The government has made it plain that farm machinery and implements are to remain on the free list, so that ultimately there will be substantial lowering of prices. Just now the main equipment available for import from the United States are tractors but as war requirements for metal and labor decrease, most equipment used on the farm will be buyable from the United States as well as from Canadian factories.

Prices will remain at current levels until dealers dispose of stocks bought before the budget and upon which they had to pay duty and war exchange tax. Removal of the tariff from farm equipment follows government moves to put a floor under agricultural prices and wide provisions for cheaper and easier farm credits.

ELECTION WILL BE HELD BEFORE JULY 1945

No extension of the life of the present Parliament is to be made. Prime Minister King made clear to Parliament. In Commons the Prime Minister said that "there may be an election this year or next," but certainly before July 1, 1945. Term of Parliament expires next spring. The Prime Minister said that family allowances will not be brought in until after the election, as he did not want cheques going out to Canadians just before an appeal to the people as had been done by a Conservative Government.

THREE NEW DEPARTMENTS ARE ESTABLISHED

Groundwork for comprehensive social and economical postwar measures has been laid by the establishment of three new government ministries, Veterans' Affairs, Reconstruction and National Health and Welfare. Speaking on the bill to establish the National Health and Welfare department, Mr. King said the time has come when human welfare must be placed above dollar values in the scheme of national life and legislation. He stressed that it is the intention to initiate Canada's all-inclusive scheme of national health insurance which would provide better hospital and medical services for all rural areas.

SACKED WOOL

Wool should be packed in clean bags or sacks and marketed as soon as possible after shearing. If the sacked wool must be kept on the farm for a few weeks before being shipped to a wool warehouse, it should be stored in a dry place and in no case should the sacks be piled on the ground because wool absorbs moisture like a sponge.

POST-WAR PLANS

FOR AGRICULTURE

The Sub-committee on Agricultural Policy, of the House of Commons Special Committee on Reconstruction and Re-establishment, has emphasized in its report that marketing facilities for agriculture be improved by government encouragement of producers' co-operatives.

The Committee also recommended:

That research on the utilization of all farm products be extended;

That improved road and trucking facilities be developed;

That national nutritional policies be established;

That research and vocational training in agriculture be extended.

That legislation similar to the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act with provisions applicable to agriculture throughout Canada be enacted;

That land settlement be developed on properly soil-surveyed land, and that the sub-marginal lands be withdrawn from use for crop production and set aside for reforestation community pasture, or other suitable use;

That farm credit facilities be extended through the liberalizing of loan conditions under the Canadian Farm Loan Act, through the establishment of a Central Mortgage Bank, and by the encouragement of credit unions;

That provision be made in post-war housing schemes for the construction of homes for hired workers, and for assistance to farmers to build and improve farm dwellings and acquire labour-saving devices for the farm home;

That the Dominion Government give financial assistance toward the provision of electricity to rural areas;

That the Dominion and Provincial Governments encourage the development of community cultural and recreational centres in rural areas by providing long-term low-interest loans to local co-operative associations.

SEEDING HAY CROPS IN FALL

For many years farmers on the Prairies were unsuccessful in attempts at regressing, but, by imitating nature, a solution has been found and has proved efficient for more than ten years. Hay crops usually start dropping their seed in late summer and this process goes on till early winter and even later.

Seeding of grasses may be started when the summer heat is on the wane, which is toward the end of August or early September, points out G. D. Matthews, Superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Station, Scott, Sask. This date is more successful if penetrating rains are received. Such plants become well-established before winter and avoid much of the possible insect damage. Seedlings made in the latter part of September or early October often have fine hair-like growth appear before winter but, without feeding roots established, they have quite a struggle the next spring with sometimes many plants not surviving. Seedlings made in the latter part of October invariably do not germinate until early spring and frequently emerge before seeding can be started. Early or late fall has given better immediate results than mid-fall sowings for seeding grass on the prairies.

Fall seeding requires some cover on the surface soil in the form of annual weeds or stubble. Depth is best defined as merely enough to cover the seed. Seeding on fallow has too often resulted in loss of plants by the action of the wind. The great disadvantage is weeds present during the first year and fall seeding of grasses is best adapted for extensive areas in the drier parts of the prairies.

These results apply best to crested wheat and reasonably satisfactory with brome grass. However, peculiar as it may seem, fall seeding is not so satisfactory with legumes. It cannot be recommended for sweet clover as results from spring seedings have been much better. With alfalfa, early fall seeding does not always work but late fall seeding is quite dependable.

Some are inclined to look upon work and labour as undignified and as a form of activity they would like to escape from. A short time ago at Saskatoon Seed Growers gathered together to honour a very great Canadian who forty years ago founded the Canadian Seed Growers' Association—the late Dr. Jas. W. Robertson, C.M.G.—Here is what Dr. Robertson thought about the dignity of farm labour:

THE DIGNITY OF FARM WORK

"The main object of mankind during all these centuries of strife and struggle of privation and suffering, as well as glory of achievement, has been to make Old Mother Earth a better home for the race."

BLUE RIBBON

That is the main object of labour on earth—a better home for a better people. The first step is that Old Mother Earth and her children, should abundantly out of the fullness of her fruition, give us nourishment for body, mind and spirit. The farmer is the citizen who carries on the work directly on the land, that is his job—partnership with the Creator in still improving the face of Old Mother Earth. It is not a sordid occupation; it cannot be a coarsening one; it must be in itself refining, since it means partnership with the Almighty, in the making of the new Earth wherein dwelleth righteousness."

Surely no words more elevated or more noble than this have ever been written about farm life.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN THE WORLD OF FOODSTUFFS

Production of grain in South Africa this year is reported to be disappointing, and imports are probable. Despite favourable growing weather, it is expected that European crops will reflect the shortage of fertilizers. Unfavourable weather conditions are expected to limit Australian wheat acreage to a lower figure than the goal set.

Moisture conditions have generally improved in some deficient areas of the Prairie Provinces. The new wheat crop in the United Kingdom continues promising. Argentina's exportable wheat surplus was recently placed at 251,304,000 bushels, compared with 171,701,000 bushels at the same time a year ago.

SAFE MILK AND WATER

"Again summer is upon us and once more it becomes necessary to call attention to the importance of safe milk and water," the magazine Health, organ of the Health League of Canada, says editorially in its current issue.

"Everyone in Canada should know that milk which is not pasteurized is never completely safe. Those on vacation especially should realize that milk and water may be a source of disease. It is unnecessary to call attention to the types of disease which may be caused by raw milk or contaminated water. It is sufficient to know that disease may be carried by milk or water and to act accordingly.

"For those vacationing in parts of Canada where milk is not pasteurized, there is a simple method of home pasteurization which properly used is as effective in making milk safe as any more elaborate procedure. All that is necessary is to heat the milk to 145° Fahrenheit in a double boiler, hold it at this temperature for half an hour, and rapidly chill it. The milk should then be kept in a cool place, preferably on ice. Ordinarily it is sufficient to heat the milk on the front of the stove until it reaches the required temperature and then move it to the back of the stove for half an hour before chilling. An ordinary dairy thermometer should be used to check the temperature.

"Where the purity of a water supply is in question, a very simple chlorinating process will ensure either free or at a negligible cost.

It is better to be safe than sorry. When you go on your vacation remember that safe milk and safe water are equally important, and they are available to everyone everywhere.

Women Don Rail Chefs' Caps

For the first time in the history of railway dining car service in Canada women have been employed by the Canadian National Railways to replace men in buffet cars. They have been assigned to trains operating between Halifax and Sydney and between Moncton and Saint John, and consideration is being given to extending the innovation to other Canadian National main line services. The crew consists of three women—a cook, pantry girl and waitress. They work under the guidance of a man steward.

Previously, men exclusively were employed as dining car crew but, with the ever-dwindling supply of male help, the Management decided to introduce women into this service. Since the start of the war, women have filled many other jobs in railway work heretofore solely accomplished by men.

The photographs show: Top—The waitress, smartly dressed in a white uniform edged in maroon with apron and bandeau, serving at the table of a Canadian National buffet-parlor car. Below, left—Attired in an all-white uniform, familiarly known as a "Hoover" dress with a white chef's cap, is the buffet-cook busy at the range. Lower, right—The pantry girl, wearing a similar uniform to the cook, about to prepare the trimmings for a perfect meal. She prepares the coffee.

Hints for the Household

ESCALLOPED POTATOES WITH CHEESE

- 4 cups cooked diced potatoes
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons corn starch
- 2 cups milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs
- 4 tablespoons grated cheese.

Put diced potatoes in quart casserole oiled with marola. Melt butter; add 1 tablespoon corn starch; let bubble three minutes. Add milk, salt and slightly beaten egg yolks; pour over potatoes. Cook in hot oven for 15 minutes. Stiffly beat the egg whites; add grated cheese and remaining corn starch. Spread lightly over potatoes; return to oven in which temperature has been reduced to 350 degrees F. until meringue is golden brown.

LEMONS-MORNING UNTIL NIGHT

Lemons are one food that the kitchen cupboard should supply at all times. We need them for flavoured garnishes; for that lemon pie; for cooling drinks; for salad dressings, for a cold that may develop at any hour of day or night; for the shampoo we suddenly decide to take. With so many uses, we must have this fruit available at all times.

Let's spend a day with our lemon supply and see whether or not I am correct.

We have learned to make it a rule to take lemon juice daily as a "regular" health habit and especially as a precautionary measure when colds are prevalent. Upon arising each morning we take the juice of one lemon in a glass of hot or cold water. Some add half a teaspoon of ordinary baking soda (bicarbonate). So as soon as we arise we start depleting our lemon stock.

Breakfast? Perhaps you like cantaloupes or honey dew melons! Ever try sprinkling lemon juice over them? You have a treat in store if you have neglected this in the past. Here's another taste surprise. Squeeze a little lemon juice over hot buttered pancakes or waffles. Sprinkle with sugar.

Lunch? Lemon juice with a bit of sugar or salt is a delicious salad dressing for lettuce and other salad greens. Lemon juice and sugar go good on grated carrots and on apple. Beat equal parts lemon juice, peanut butter and evaporated milk with sugar and salt for another dressing, good on lettuce, cabbage or fruit salads. These dressings save oil. Use lemon juice also to add flavor to the meat, egg and other fillings used for lunch box sandwiches. Incidentally, lemon juice may replace vinegar, which is now sometimes difficult to secure, in almost any recipe.

Dinner? Lemon quarters for your fruit juice cocktails; lemon garnishes for your vegetables; lemon pie—really there is no end to this lemon dinner list. And speaking of lemon pie, this is a dessert that builds morale. Use the points you save with lemon juice for salad dressings to provide the fat your pastry takes.

And here are a few lemon tips that do not apply to meals:

For iron rust or ink stains, moisten spot with lemon juice, sprinkle with salt, place in sunlight. Repeat until spot disappears.

For woodwork, use the juice of one lemon in one quart of water as a rinse when cleaning surfaces of painted or enameled woodwork. This will help to keep that glossy finish.

Immediately after washing dishes, drop a little lemon juice in the palms and rub well over hands to keep them soft and white. This also removes odors, such as fish or onion.

As a guard against faulty complexion worries, put lemon juice in the rinse water following a soapy face wash. This removes soap traces, softens the water, and leaves the skin in the normal, slightly acid state.

A teaspoon of lemon juice added to each pint of water in which red cabbage or beets are cooked, keeps the red color of the vegetable. Oh, this hint applies to food, doesn't it? But, anyway, I think I have proved the healthful little lemon to be a versatile fruit.

HEALTH

A HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN CANADA

Toronto—For every 100 men drafted into the United States Army 200 are tested for syphilis. It is estimated that at the beginning of this year 15,000,000 men had been examined. In Canada recruits are examined only after they join the armed forces and those medically rejected are not at all examined for syphilis.

Chicago—The Journal of the American Medical Association has bitterly protested the drafting into the U. S. armed forces of premedical students. In a statement issued for publication after President Roosevelt had announced there would be no further deferments, the Journal said: "At a time when the whole world is confronted with a need for well-trained physicians as never before, American officialdom is apparently willing to cut off the supply at its very source by refusing to permit premedical and predoctoral students to

SEARLE PRECIPITATION

REPORT No. 10

There has been a slight improvement in the moisture condition of the three Prairie Provinces during the past week. The total moisture condition for Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, as a group, now stands at 93.7% of normal, compared with 93.2% at this time last week and 93% at this time a year ago.

The total moisture condition for the province of Alberta is now 79.5% of normal, compared with 80.9% a week ago and 91% at this time a year ago.

For Saskatchewan the similar moisture condition is now 96.6% of normal, compared with 96.4% last week and 98% at this time a year ago.

For Manitoba the similar moisture condition is now 116.3% of normal, compared with 107.4% last week and 116% at this time a year ago.

Southern Alberta is still lacking in moisture reserves, while the condition in the northern part of the province is generally either normal or better than normal.

Normal or better than normal rainfall has occurred in most parts of Saskatchewan with the exception of the south-west and west-central districts which are still deficient in moisture.

In Manitoba there has been an increase of about 9% during the past week, but the moisture condition in Crop District No. 13 is still below normal.

...ask yourself this Question

One look in your mirror will give you the answer . . . Am I man or mouse . . . am I one of those who lets the other fellow face all the danger, take all the risks? Look yourself straight in the eye and ask yourself this one question . . . Have I the guts? The guts to wear the G.S. badge on my sleeve—to fight that my home, my people may be free.

You'll need months of thorough training to make you fighting-fit. Your place is beside every man who has the courage to see it through. Canada's Army needs you NOW, and needs you for overseas service.

Democracy In Business

The co-operative movement is democracy in business. As it depends on human agencies to conduct it, it can never be perfect, but it is a long way ahead of the capital stock company and the modern trust corporation.

Co-operation does not exist in law or in formula. It exists in the minds and hearts and purposes of the people. It is founded on mutual confidence and trust. With the development of these ideals people can make a success of co-operation.

The Alberta Wheat Pool is a creation of the farmers of this province. It has demonstrated its efficiency as a business organization and also its adherence to the co-operative principles. To make it a greater success than ever, it needs the interest and support of a greater number of the farm people of this province.
